📢 ELIX NEWSLETTER – ROADMAP COMPLETED!

We are pleased to announce the completion of the Roadmap of the ELIX – European Labour Mobility-led Career and Service-Learning System in Higher Education project. The Roadmap is one of the project's key deliverables, mapping the steps taken in each partner country (Slovenia, Austria, Slovakia, Serbia, Greece) to strengthen the link between higher education, the labour market, and society.

🔍 What does the Roadmap include?

- Think Tank Series with universities, employers, career counsellors, and local stakeholders to identify labour market needs.
- Surveys with students and stakeholders on labour market trends, skills gaps, and employability strategies.
- Country-level analyses highlighting common challenges such as lack of digital skills, soft skills, and limited practical opportunities.
- Clear guidelines for action to improve youth employability and foster civic engagement

🌐 Key Findings

- Students identified digital literacy, communication, critical thinking, and teamwork as essential skills for future careers.
- Employers stressed the need for stronger connections between academic studies and practice: internships, mentoring, and collaboration with experts.
- Across all countries, there is a shared demand for flexible, experiential, and innovative learning that supports entrepreneurship and adaptability

NEXT STEPS

The Roadmap will serve as the foundation for:

- the Triple ELIX Common Teaching & Accreditation Programme,
- a Toolkit for HEI educators with methodologies for integrating Community Service Learning (CSL),
- and a digital collaboration space offering virtual CSL experiences.

Why does it matter?

Completing the Roadmap marks an important milestone for ELIX. It brings us closer to the project's core mission: bridging the gap between higher education and the labour market, empowering students and educators with the tools to build a more sustainable, innovative, and socially responsible Europe.
